DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 42 and 45 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species as set forth below:

Claim 42 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following conditions/diseases: cancer, parasitic infection, and viral infection which differ at least in etiology, pathology, and mechanisms. As such each species would not be interchanged with the other and each would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

Claim 45 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising the following antigens: gp100, MART-1/Melan A, gp75, tyrosinase, MAGE, BAGE, GAGE, RAGE, etc.

The products of the above species represent separate and distinct molecules with different structures and functions such that one species could not be interchanged with the other. As such, each species would require different searches and the consideration of different patentability issues.

A telephone call was made to Tom Cawley on December 1, 2005 to request an oral election to the above species requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
